RANDOLPH-MACON TO MEET BAPTISTS

Quint Leaves To-Day for First of Two Games Against Wake Forest.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Ashland, Va., January 26.—The Randolph-Macon basketball team will leave Ashland to-morrow afternoon at 12:35, bound for Wake Forest, N. C., to meet the strong Wake Forest College quint for the first of two games to be played by these two teams. The next game will be played in Ashland in the Yellow Jackets' gymnasium on February 5.

Captain Jordan says the men are in the best possible condition, and the only way Wake Forest can beat the Ashlanders is to entirely outclass them. Randolph-Macon has played two games, one with Fredericksburg College here, the Christmas holidays, in which the Lemon and Black team easily won. The second game was played against the Richmond Young Men's Christian Association, and while the Young Men's Christian Association won it was no easy affair, and proved that they have to put up a high-class basketball team. The team had its last practice before the Wake Forest game yesterday, and the first team was composed of Jordan (captain), right forward; Millican (manager), left forward; Brown, center; R. N. Walker, left guard; C. M. Woodhouse, right guard.

The exact strength of the Tarheels is not known, but from reports they have one of the best teams of their career, composed entirely of old men. They have defeated the best teams in the State, easily winning from A. and M. Wake Forest has not announced its line-up yet.

Although the winter is still holding forth, the baseball enthusiasts are preparing for the early spring practice by ordering baseball goods now, and the warm spring day will find the Yellow Jackets out in force preparing for the championship games. New suits and baseball coats have been ordered for the first team, the new suits of last year going to the second team.

TRACK SQUAD CHOSEN BY TRAINER LANNIGAN

Will Represent University of Virginia at George Washington Meet—Baseball Candidates Beginning to Get in Form for Season.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Charlottesville, Va., January 26.—Two new lots of ability are expected to join Virginia's track forces, and they will materially add to the strength of the team. The first of these is W. H. Felton, from Lawrenceville, who is expected to be a 40-yard man of value. He is expected to reach here to-morrow, and will matriculate at once and enter classes on Monday. The other is an athlete named Diaboli, of Colgate University, at Hamilton, N. Y. He has expressed a desire to come to Virginia, and he may have the best of training. He has sent a list of accomplishments, which include nearly everything from the 220 to the two-mile. He does the latter, he says, in 10:10; the half in 2:31, and the mile in 5:38—which would make him a valuable addition to the Orange and Blue squad.

Final trials were held yesterday afternoon to select the track teams that will represent Virginia at the George Washington meet in Washington February 19, and the trials to go to Boston to compete with Harvard and Yale. The trials, which were made against time, were not satisfactory, according to the trainer, "Burr" Lannigan, the time being much slower in most instances than what the men have been doing.

Closely Contested. Some twenty quarter-mile men ran two and a half laps on the boardwalk, and among those to give a good account of themselves were Guy, Fite, Stager, Walker and Thornhill. The sprinters were given fifty yards in several heats, most of which were very closely contested. The low hurdle between Goch and Ward resulted in a draw. Both of these men will run the hurdles in Washington, and will also be entered in the sprints. All of the distance men, except Jones and Allen, were given 600 yards. Of these, Hart and Rumbough are the most promising, with Jones a reliable man. The two-mile race, Jones and Allen ran ten laps and a half, which was won by the former.

The trials, which took the better part of the day, represented the best work that the men could do, and in spite of this effort, there was something in the atmosphere, according to Lannigan, that held the men down. Only three men did themselves justice at all. Trainer Lannigan announced to-day that the track squad to be sent to Washington would include the following: Fite, Holcombe, Guy, Walter, Briggs, Cooke, Captain Todd, Roddey, L. B. Williams, Hawkins, Rumbough, Jones, Allen, Cooke, Sloan and Cochran. The relay team will be selected from the following seven runners: Cooke, Todd, Briggs, Guy, Holcombe, Walter and Fite.

Baseball Candidates. Under the coaching of Rigler, about forty baseball men have been busily engaged this week at the University of Virginia in an effort to get into form for the opening of the baseball season. The work has been confined chiefly to indoors, where the applicants have been playing basketball to develop their wind. Regular training will begin within a couple of weeks.

Most of the members of last year's squad are back in college, but the team is in need of a couple of right-hand pitchers, a catcher, second and third baseman and left fielder. Several new men, including Fleck from New York, are here with expectations of closing up these vacancies. The situation is regarded as encouraging.

AMUSEMENTS

Academy—Matinee and Night, "The Man From Home."
Bijou—Matinee and Night, "The White Squaw."

"Vanishing Race" Matinee.

To meet the insistent requests of school authorities, who are familiar with the work of Edward S. Curtis, the Nurses' Settlement and the State Antituberculosis Association have special matinee of his picture-music, "A Vanishing Race," when he has a Richmond engagement next Wednesday.

The interest manifested in Mr. Curtis' engagement indicates that the Academy will be filled to capacity at both performances. The unusual type of his offering, which combines the usual features of a lecture, a moving picture performance and a symphony concert, combine to render the story of the "Vanishing Race" most interesting and unique among entertainments. The seat sale begins at the Academy to-day.

Better and Better. The second performance of "The Man From Home" was even more delightful than the first, not only because new bits of wit, humor and cleverness were discovered, but because of the absence of some other incredibly inebriated or boisterously bucolic boor who, by his loudly vacant laughter and noisy applause, both manual and vocal, interfered with the otherwise complete enjoyment of many who attended the opening performance. ## Chalmers MOTOR CARS attituting a new officer, does not appear in his bill.

Cold storage men from all over the country will be present this afternoon before the House Committee on General Laws, when the bill offered by William Bullitt Fitzhugh, of Northampton, comes up for consideration. The measure, in its most important features, forbids the keeping of anything designed to be used as human food in cold storage for longer than ten months. It will be vigorously fought. Mr. Fitzhugh believes that such food becomes unfit for use, and that it is frequently held for higher prices.

The only bill before the House Committee on Asylums and Prisons yesterday afternoon was one directing the State Board of Charities and Corrections to investigate the conditions engaged in the placing of children in family homes; authorizing courts to commit destitute or wayward children to that board, and requiring it to keep in touch with prisoners paroled from the penitentiary. It was reported favorably.

The professional juror is aimed at in a bill proposed in the House yesterday by Daniel Coleman, of Norfolk. It provides that no juror shall be eligible if he shall have served in that court during the same year.

The Senate bill providing for a re-appointment to the voters of the State of the constitutional amendment enabling themselves to be reported favorably by the Senate yesterday afternoon, but the Senate Committee for Courts of Justice, attorney Fred Harper, of Lynchburg, appeared in opposition to the measure, and the bill was reported unfavorably.

The vote on the bill was taken in executive session, and the result was the statement that there was division of opinion was given out.

Senator Tavenner's bill amending the turnpike law so as to make unlawful the erection of more than one toll gate upon any one turnpike section of any turnpike was argued pro and con before the Senate Committee for Courts of Justice yesterday afternoon, but the bill was reported unfavorably.

The Senate Committee on General Laws reported favorably yesterday afternoon Senator Blanks' bill providing that no person shall be treated as a different intention shall appear.

The first of the Senate fee system bills to receive a hearing was the one of Senator Gravatt's, which held the attention of the Senate Committee for Courts of Justice for more than an hour at its meeting yesterday afternoon. A number of county officials offered testimony.

The bill proposes a system of salaries for county officers, graduated according to county population. Treasurer Adams, of Northampton, thought that so serious a problem should be considered maturely by a joint committee of the two houses before definite action is taken. Tax collectors, he stated, would be sure to be eliminated as soon as commissions were eliminated and county treasurers put on salary. A resolution was reported from the Board of Supervisors of Augusta county protesting against the passage of the bill. The committee took it under further consideration, and will probably report it next week with amendments.

The chiropractic bill was considered yesterday afternoon by the Senate Committee on General Laws. Members of that following, who desire legislation for a separate board of examiners, so that they need not go before the State Board of Medical Examiners, produced patients who were said to have been almost miraculously cured by them. They feared, being rather a new cult, they could not get absolute justice from regular practitioners.

The latter, represented by Dr. George Ben Johnston, Dr. Stuart McGuire and others, contended that it would be possible for young men with little ability enough to pass the regular medical examination to go off and take a short course in chiropractic, get by that board and pose before the public as physicians. They now have the right to present themselves before the State Board of Medical Examiners, having taken all regular instruction save that in materia medica. It was pointed out that the osteopaths made similar objections a year ago, and tried to get a separate board, but are now perfectly satisfied, and a letter was produced from them saying they were fully satisfied with the fairness of the board. The committee passed the measure by for the present.

It is believed that when the Evans subcommittee reports to the House Committee on General Laws this afternoon on the various game bills it will recommend against the appointment of a State game warden and the institution of a separate department. Otherwise, its recommendations are in doubt.
